ABOUT

CARMELLA serves as a regional consultant for health and education in Europe, the Middle East and Liberia. She works with partners and global servant colleagues in the integration of faith, education, and health. Carmella, a registered nurse and ordained clergy, is uniquely equipped to teach and support spiritual and physical well-being. As an integrator of faith and health, Carmella provides pastoral care and a listening presence in the context of peoples' values, beliefs, and faith practices when providing compassionate support in the classroom and health clinics. She will continue to teach English and work with children with special needs.

This newly renovated health clinic at Ricks Institute in Liberia will serve the students and the surrounding community.

“ MINISTRY STORY

In August 2023, I completed my one-year home assignment and am most excited to share that my role has now expanded into serving as a regional consultant for health and education.

In Europe, through mutual agreement and excitement, I have returned to Budapest, Hungary, to serve my beloved Pannonhalmi school community. It's not often you see the fruit of your labor blossom. I am grateful and joyful my students are thriving in their English learning and displaying speaking confidence. The community is welcoming more diverse students of different races and ethnicities. This is a praise and joyful celebration because for five and a half years, the community had no diversity.

Traveling to Liberia for the first time, I met with partners to learn about their vision and ministries. I was particularly drawn to one ministry partner, Ricks Institute, which serves both day and boarding students. Excited about the newly renovated health clinic on campus and the young nurses eager to serve the students and the surrounding community, I felt nostalgia remembering my early days in nursing as I listened to the enthusiasm of two young nurses. Together, we will begin to lay the foundation for systems to support good data collection, patient education and visiting medical/dental mission teams.

PRAYER REQUESTS

Pray for my health and safety in this new assignment and also for wisdom, discernment and joy.

Pray for the leadership and students in both schools, Pannonhalmi and Ricks Institute.

Pray for the young nurses at Ricks Institute.

SCRIPTURE

“See, I am doing a new thing! Now it springs up; do you not perceive it? I am making a way in the wilderness and streams in the wasteland.”

Isaiah 43:19 (NIV)
